

A Reggio Inspired School

Children are believed to be competent, capable and full of ideas.

Critical thinking and problem solving are learned through meaningful interactions and play.

Teachers are inspired by learning through research.

Parents are partners in learning.

2023- 2024 Educator Tours

At Little Owl, we believe children learn best by discovering and constructing their knowledge in an enriched environment. Children develop and create meaning and a contextual understanding of themselves and the world through relationships with people and materials.

We want to connect with you. How we relate to ourselves and our community plays a crucial role in what and how we learn. During our tour, participants can observe our classrooms, art studio, food atelier, and outdoor spaces, all while in use. Afterward, our educators will discuss the Image of the child, why and how we use documentation, and the environment as the third teacher. The event will end with a Question & Answer session.

Let us share how you can bring these ideas into practice at your school.

Is your school interested in a tour?

Email littleowl@littleowlschool.org with school name, contact information, number of attendees and at least three tour date options.

Tours will be conducted between the 8am and 12pm (ie. 8:30am- 11:30am), Monday through Friday.

$300 for a three hour tour for up to 10 participants

Additional participants can be added to your group for a flat rate of $40/person

Educator tours will consist of a brief introduction and self-guided tour for the first two hours, followed by a small group discussion with the Little Owl administrative team.
